About the Competition

The ESNC is an international contest that annually awards the best services, products, and business innovations using SATELLITE NAVIGATION IN EVERYDAY LIFE. Its mission is to spur the development of market-driven applications based on satellite navigation technologies, including EGNOS and Galileo. Within the past 12 years more than 9,200 developers took part in the ESNC.

Prize Pool worth EUR 1 million

This year's prize pool is worth EUR 1 million including cash prizes and in-kind services. All winners of the regional and special prizes – in total about 30 prizes – will be in the running for the overall prize of EUR 20,000 and a six month incubation programme in a region of their choice.
